Food Industry

A range of centrifuges meeting specific requirements for the food industry

Used for partial/maximum liquid extraction under controlled conditions (water, oil, fat, juice, sugar etc.) resulting from the processing of food products.

Depending on the required remaining moisture content, the fragility, sensitivity and the volumes of processed products to be treated our filtration and decanting centrifuges have been specifically designed for the food industry. We are also able to develop/modify from our other product ranges equipment to meet specific requirements with respect to productivity, end product quality and to incorporate easier cleaning/hygiene controls to meet legislation standards.
